DENNIS' KENTUCKY DERBY ANALYSIS & EXOTIC BETS

#3 Epicenter - Epicenter has improved by leaps and bounds in recent months and is one head defeat away from bringing a five-race win streak into the Kentucky Derby. Two starts back, he wired a deep field in the Risen Star S. (G2), counting fellow Kentucky Derby starters Smile Happy, Zandon, Pioneer of Medina, and Tawny Port among his beaten rivals. Then Epicenter showed a new dimension in the Louisiana Derby (G2), rating behind the leaders before pouncing to victory by 2 1/2 lengths. Epicenter did drift in noticeably down the homestretch of the Louisiana Derby, and he risks a tricky Kentucky Derby trip while breaking from post 3 with speed horses to his outside. But Epicenter's Brisnet Speed ratings are trending in a promising direction, and he has to be respected based off the company he defeated on the Road to the Kentucky Derby. #10 Zandon - Never out of the trifecta in four starts, Zandon has kept good company on the Road to the Kentucky Derby. Runner-up by a nose against Mo Donegal in the Remsen S. (G2), and third behind Epicenter and Smile Happy in the Risen Star S. (G2), Zandon took a big step forward in the Blue Grass S. (G1) at Keeneland four weeks after. After dropping back to last place entering the far turn, Zandon unleashed a powerful rally through traffic to surge past Smile Happy and win by 2 1/2 lengths with a 103 Brisnet Speed rating. The Kentucky Derby will mark his third run of the season (a strong angle in the past for Chad Brown-trained Kentucky Derby contenders), so look for Zandon to produce another competitive showing on Saturday.

#15 White Abarrio - With two victories from two starts this season, White Abarrio enters the Kentucky Derby in hot form. A pace-tracking trip carried White Abarrio to a 4 1/2-length victory in the Holy Bull S. (G3) over Simplification and Mo Donegal, after which he rallied from just behind the leaders to win the Florida Derby (G1) over Charge It and Simplification. But a pace meltdown benefited White Abarrio in the Florida Derby, and with a career-best 97 Brisnet Speed rating, White Abarrio is a bit slower on paper than the Kentucky Derby favorites.

#13 Simplification - A dominant winner of the Fountain of Youth S. (G2) when employing stretch-running tactics, Simplification also displayed serious speed when dueling for the lead through fast fractions in the Florida Derby (G1). Although he weakened to finish third in the latter race, Simplification was only beaten 2 1/4 lengths while finishing best of the speed horses. Returning to an off-the-pace running style can potentially help Simplification move forward in the Kentucky Derby, so don't dismiss this accomplished colt from superfecta consideration.

#7 Crown Pride - Japanese horses have enjoyed extraordinary success on an international stage over the last six months, and perhaps their momentum can continue with Crown Pride. After going 2-for-3 to start his career in Japan, Crown Pride traveled to Dubai for the UAE Derby (G2), where he settled off the early leaders before rallying boldly to win by 2 3/4 lengths. The UAE Derby wasn't the fastest race on paper, but Crown Pride has trained strongly at Churchill Downs and has upside for improvement in his third run of the season. Don't dismiss Crown Pride from contention—a top-five finish may be within reach.
